

JASMINA CIBIC PRESENTS A SPECIAL PERFORMANCE:

"WE'VE KNOWN ALL ALONG IT WOULD BE HARD TO PUT ANYTHING ON THESE WALLS"

4 – 7pm, 30 May 2012

GALLERIA A+A, SLOVENIAN EXHIBITION CENTRE
SAN MARCO, CALLE MALIPIERO 3073, (NEXT TO PALAZZO GRASSI), VENEZIA 30124

THIS PERFORMANCE FORMS PART OF A SPECIAL PROGRAMME OF EVENTS
TO LAUNCH THE PROJECT FOR OUR ECONOMY AND CULTURE

SLOVENIAN PAVILION, LA BIENNALE DI VENEZIA, THE 55TH INTERNATIONAL ART EXHIBITION
1 JUNE – 24 NOVEMBER 2013

Two of Slovenia's leading actor/dance performers, Primož Bežjak and Gregor Luštek, will take part in a specially conceived performance to launch Jasmina Cibic's presentation for The Slovenian Pavilion at the Venice Biennale. Bežjak and Luštek will enact the hanging of artworks drawn from the official art collection of the Slovene parliament, which form a central part of Cibic's project. In a subtle choreographed routine, echoing the real-life movements of museum officials as they position artworks, this performance will bind together all the elements that make up the complex web of Cibic's pavilion installation.

Bezjak and Luštek will be dressed in an 'official uniform', created by Slovenian designer Sanja Grcić, and represent the omnipresent, omniscient guardians or custodians of art, further reinforcing the notion of major art institutions as elite art depositories. The design of the 'uniforms' is strongly reminiscent of 1950s officialdom, emphasizing Cibic's preoccupation to a specific 'heroic' era of modernism and foregrounding this period's strong ideological charge. To add force to this, the pattern of the material used to create the uniforms, consists of multiple illustrations of an endemic Slovenian beetle, The Anophtalmus Hitler and reflects the design of the wallpaper used to cover the entire interior of the pavilion, so that our visual field is saturated. The beetle's problematic moniker (designated in 1937 by German collector, Oscar Scheibel, in 'honour' of Adolf Hitler) resonates with specific meaning and ensured - not surprisingly - that it failed to be adopted as a national icon. Coupled with the suggestive choreography, the performance poetically questions both the role of officials and the power of uniform, stamping the subjected/subjugated bodies with symbols of the institutional apparatus in general and reflecting particular regimes of power. It also exposes the legitimisation and mechanisms of producing and shaping knowledge through a selection of works drawn from a specific art history canon.

This specifically delegated performance offers the key that unlocks the reading of the whole installation and becomes Cibic's final act in foregrounding complex and entrenched ideological mechanisms whilst showing that their operations can no longer be taken for granted.

ABOUT THE PROJECT

The Museum and Galleries of Ljubljana and Škuc Gallery present the work of Jasmina Cibic at the Slovenian Pavilion at La Biennale di Venezia, the 55th International Art Exhibition. For our Economy and Culture is curated by Tevž Logar, artistic director of Škuc Gallery, Ljubljana.

Cibic's presentation for the Slovenian Pavilion, For our Economy and Culture takes the curatorial directive of the 55th International Art Exhibition – la Biennale di Venezia: The Encyclopedic Palace as a starting point to further explore systems and hierarchies of knowledge and presentation.

Using the architectural specificity of the Slovenian Pavilion, a repurposed private residence, and referencing state architectural strategies, Cibic will create an immersive multi-media installation that appropriates the entire space and explores issues around national representation and framing.

The Slovenian Pavilion at the 55th International Art Exhibition – La Biennale di Venezia has been produced by the Museum and Galleries of Ljubljana and co-produced by Škuc Gallery, Ljubljana. The commissioner is Blaž Peršin. www.slovenianpavilion.net
